

Immaculata's Music programs provide a holistic environment to the study of music. In addition to the state-of-the-art performing arts center, renovated music hall and recital hall, the university provides a number of practice rooms, music listening rooms and electronic piano and MIDI studios. As a music major students receive a balance of music theory, music history, and performance. The music education program provides students with the academic and professional preparation leading to teacher certification. Immaculata's music therapy program prepares students to use music in helping people achieve a therapeutic goal.
