

NUTRITION – DIDACTIC PROGRAM in DIETETICS

Immaculata's Nutrition – Didactic program in dietetics program offers excellent preparation in the basic sciences and liberal education, a background in food science, and a focus on human needs related to nutrition. The curriculum is based on the foundation knowledge and skills for entry-level dietitians.

DEGREES OFFERED

Bachelor of Science in Nutrition – Didactic Program in Dietetics – 126 Credits

MAJOR REQUIREMENTS – Bachelor's Degree

Fundamentals of Food and Its Preparation
Culture & Diversity in Foods & Nutrition
Nutrition
Experimental Foods
Community Nutrition
Advanced Nutrition
Medical Nutrition Therapy I, II
Principles of Dietetics Practice
Experience in Dietetics Practice
Strategies in Teaching Nutrition Concepts
Food Service Operations
Food Service Management
Experience in Food Service Operations
Nutrition Counseling
Lifespan Development
Introductory Organic Chemistry
Introductory Biochemistry
Human Biology
Foundations in Psychology
Statistics
Principles of Sociology
Principles of Economics
Accounting & Budgeting
Introductory Microbiology
Introductory Genetics
Basic College Chemistry I, II