

PSYCHOLOGY

The Psychology programs at Immaculata prepare students for a great variety of positions in business, education, and social service agencies, or for graduate study. Students are introduced to concepts of human development and behavior, statistical and research methods, and contemporary issues in life and work. A psychology major possesses knowledge and skills that translate well into real-world settings.

DEGREES OFFERED

Bachelor of Arts in Psychology – 126 Credits
Bachelor of Arts in Biology-Psychology–126 Credits
Bachelor of Arts in Spanish-Psychology–126 Credits

MAJOR REQUIREMENTS –Psychology

Foundations in Psychology
Statistics
Experimental Psychology I, II
Theories of Personality or
Lifespan Development
Applied Psychology or
Principles of Psychological Testing
History of Psychology
Contemporary Research Issues

Six credits from among such electives as:

Effectiveness in the Workplace
Conflict Resolution Strategies
Career Planning
Health Psychology
The Holocaust
Social Psychology
Children & Societies Worldwide
Physiological Psychology
Theories of Personality
Psychology of Literature & Film
Human Sexuality

EDUCATION CERTIFICATIONS OFFERED

While working toward a degree in Psychology, students may obtain teacher certification in Early Childhood Education, Elementary Education or Elementary/Special Education.

MAJOR REQUIREMENTS –

Psychology/Biology

Foundations in Psychology
Statistics
Physiological Psychology
Experimental Psychology I, II
Introductory Analysis or Calculus I & II
Fundamental Chemical Concepts I, II
Introductory Organic Chemistry
Cell Biology
Genetics
Evolution & Diversity
Mammalian Structure & Function
Junior Seminar & Senior Seminar or
History of Psychology &
Contemporary Research Issues
Four credits from among specified biology courses
Four credits from among specified psychology courses

MAJOR REQUIREMENTS –

Psychology/Spanish

Foundations in Psychology
Statistics
Principles of Psychological Testing
Experimental Psychology I
Preprofessional Internship
Introduction to Counseling
Three credits from psychology electives
Advanced Intermediate Spanish I, II
Advanced Composition (Spanish)
Spanish for Careers
Latin America Culture & Civilization
Advanced Conversation
Seminar

Degrees can be completed entirely in the evening